Career summary

M.Sc. (zoology), McGill University, 1969; Ph.D. (biology), University of Colorado, 1971. Postdoctoral fellow at Genetiska Institutionen, Lunds Universitet, Sweden, in 1971-72. Research associate, then Research director at Université du Québec à Montréal, and finally Professor in the Département de physique. In 1980, moved to Département de sciences biologiques, Université de Montréal (rank: Associate Professor). Full Professor in 1984.

Scientific interests

Pierre Legendre is a specialist of Numerical ecology, a sub-discipline of community ecology that he founded and to which he has contributed extensively over the past 40 years. His research concerns in particular the ecological and biogeographic processes that generate and organize biodiversity through space and time. An important component of his research in fundamental ecology is the development of quantitative methods to analyse multivariate ecological data. He works at the moment on adapting and transferring the methods developed in spatial community ecology to landscape genetics, in particular for the study of genetic beta diversity.
